Mr. J. M. MARTIN, of the Maywood section, celebrated his 76th birthday Friday by setting a splendid dinner, to which some 40 of his relatives and friends were invited. Mr. D. W. Vandever, who was present, tells us that it was a sumptuous dinner and that it was one of the happiest occasions of his later years.

The fiscal court met Friday and adopted the plan of working public roads by allotting the hands in the precincts to do the work. The hands are to be paid for two days' work at 62 cents a day, but may be compelled to work more for which they will receive no remuneration. Two horse wagons are to be paid $1.75 per day; one-horse wagons $1.25 and two-horse plow $1.75.

SANCTIFICATION continues to get in its perfect work in one direction, at least. Another woman was taken to the asylum yesterday who had lost her reason because of religious excitement produced by some tramp evangelist, who held a sanctification meeting at Ephesus. The woman is Mrs. Ann Eliza Gaestineau and she was after trial yesterday sent to Lexington. She is 24 and her husband is living.

The L. & N. R. was fined $100 at Lebanon for violating the long and short haul clause, the lowest limit. An indictment charging unjust discrimination was dismissed on motion of defendant's attorneys and that carried a number of others with it. The L. & N. will appeal the first named case and is almost certain that the verdict will be reversed. It is to be hoped so at any rate for the good of the coal miners.

A good deal of drinking among the kid boys of town has led the county judge and attorney to institute inquiry as to where they obtain their supply of whiskey. Several boys have been brought before them, but they pretend not to know who the man is that supplies them, except that some say he calls himself "Bible Back." It is to be hoped that the court will go to the bottom of the thing and not only find out who is corrupting the youths, but send some of the latter up for perjury.

SNAKE BITTEN.—Alfred Bastin, who lives near Highland, was bitten on the leg by a copperhead snake a few ago. The limb began to swell and his family grew so alarmed that they could not wait the arrival of a physician, but tried the old-fashioned remedy of cutting a chicken open and placing it on the bite. They had applied a half dozen or more and had also given him almost a quart of whiskey, when Dr. Cook arrived and ministered to him. He was about well when last heard from, but it will take him some time to replenish his chicken coop and supply of snake medicine.

HOP.—After the contest at Walton's Opera House, which lasted till nearly midnight, Friday, the chairs were removed and the boys danced all night and went home with the girls in the morning. The music made by Deckelmann's Orchestra was as good as anybody ever shook a foot by and joy reigned supreme.

The young ladies present were Misses Lillie Lyons, Lexington, Jennie Burnside and Alice Young, Lancaster, Katie Lee Yeager, Danville, Amie Smith, Richmond, Mrs. Lizzie McAlister, Mrs. W. P. Walton, Mrs. Dr. W. B. Penny, Misses Annie, Lizzie and Lucile Menefee, Adele Feland, Nora Moreland, Sue Rout, Mary Bruce and Messrs. Helm, Tribble, Anderson, Burton, Fleece and Jake Robinson, Homer and John Baughman, Pickett, Shanks, Sautley, Moore, Green, Hale, Rout, Bruce, Bright, etc.

The eulogistic contest for young ladies drew a full house and Managers S. W. Menefee and E. H. Beazley realized handsomely after paying for the nice watch and 15 volumes of Dickens' Works, which they gave as first and second prizes. The contestants were Miss Alberta Anderson, of Lancaster, whom many thought deserved first place, subject, "The Murderer;" Miss Ethyl Beazley, of Stanford, who was a decided favorite, subject, "The Rescue of Lucknow;" Miss Nellie Ware McGoodwin, of Danville, who recited selections from Lady of Lyons very captivatingly; Miss Nellie Griffin, of Lancaster, whom the judges awarded the gold watch, subject, "The Uncle;" Miss Lucile Menefee, of Stanford, who got the second prize, when many thought she ought to have had the first, subject, "The Death Bridge of the Tay;" and Miss Elizabeth Fleece Bosley, of Danville, who won golden opinions in "Selections from Keatsworth."

The judges, who were Col. T. P. Hill, Elder George Gowan and W. J. Price, Jr., took nearly an hour to decide the difficult questions and at last had to announce a two-thirds verdict. We did not get this from Mr. Gowan, however, who in a happy little speech of presentation said he would never be caught in another such trap and if anybody asked him anything about it he would be forced to imitate old Brownlow, who was known as the "Fighting Parson." We can not say that the decision for first place was a popular one, but if everybody could have seen the young lady's happy papa afterwards, no murmur of disapproval could possibly have arisen.

The young lady deserved the compliments she received and which she so modestly acknowledged. All the young ladies did well and the entire performance would have been a credit to older and more experienced participants. The music by Deckelmann's Orchestra was a very pleasant feature and a number of his selections were liberally applauded. We must not neglect to mention Chairman J. Richard Bush, whose neat little introductory address and general bearing showed both self possession and a decided aptitude for platform performances. "Six beautiful roses around one shabby Bush" as he expressed it was good and the audience appreciated the pun.

The party given by Miss Stella Ballou and Dexter and Victor Ballou in honor of Miss Daisy Harris, of Clifton Forge, Va., proved an occasion long to be remembered by the younger set, who were out in full force and enjoyed each fleeting moment to the fullest extent. The house was beautifully illuminated as was the pretty lawn, where seats were tastefully arranged so that a young man's other sweetheart could not hear what he was saying to the little charmer who happened to be with him at the time. There were fully 40 couples present, but Misses Stella, Flora, Angie and Ellen Ballou, assisted by Misses Essie Burch and Edna Courts, entertained them with an ease and grace that made everybody feel at home. Miss Harris, the pretty little Virginian, was beautifully attired in white organdie and won compliments on all sides on her beauty and vivacity. At 11 o'clock refreshments which consisted of ices, fruits, cake, &c., were served on prettily dressed tables and were greatly enjoyed. Afterward until 1 o'clock the moments sped merrily by and then came the leave taking, which was with genuine regret and expressions of gratitude for such a contribution to their enjoyment. Among those present were: Misses Sue Woods, Emma Owseley, Alice Baughman, Mary Dunn, Martha Paxton Rout, Annie Bronaugh Engleman, Ethyl Beazley, Dorothy Peed, Isabel Walker, Adele Sautley, Mattie Thompson, Pattie Alcorn, Alba Pope, Amie Smith, Kate Alcorn, Annie Evans Bright, Bess Woods, Sue Will Hale, Isabella Bailey, Mary Cooper Feland, Edna Courts, Mattie Hopper, Florence Myers, Lillie Peyton, Adele Feland, Roberta Bright, Victoria Bishop, Mollie Wright, Mary Bruce, Myrtle Hughes, Gertie Dawson, Eva Lammers, Mary Bright, Bettie Rochester, Katherine Beazley, Margaret Bright, Cora Jones and Essie Burch; Messrs. George A. McRoberts, R. L. Pickett, W. S. Embury, Harry Baughman, Jesse M. Alverson, Rowan Sautley, Robert Bruce, John G. Lynn, R. C. Hocker, James Menefee, W. Carroll Shanks, Barnes Wearen, Sam Joe Burch, W. S. Hocker, Thomas H. Shanks, J. Richard Bush, S. J. Embury, Jr., Joe H. McAlister, James Engleman, James H. Sautley, Charley Green, Willie Hopper, George Farris, N. H. McKinney, E. C. Gaines, A. A. McKinney, Jr., John M. Hale, Ashby M. Warren, B. H. VanArsdale, Logan M. Hughes, Uriah Bright, Bledsoe Bailey, John Baughman, Mack Lawson and T. J. Hill.

HOP.—Capt. Richards asks us to invite everybody to a grand hop at Linnietta Springs Friday night next.

A NUMBER of bad little boys whom their parents ought to switch till they can't sit down are in trouble because they caught another little boy out the other night and after stripping him sent him home in that condition. War-rants are out for them and they may get worse than a switching.

JUDGE CARSON's police court was in motion yesterday morning and ground out the following sentences: Cap Hanaford for carrying concealed weapons 10 days and $25; same for shooting in the street $10; and Ferrill Gunn, C. H. Anderson, James Best, Lizzie Crow and Rena Harlan were fined $5 each for misbehaving on the streets.

—Miss Gertrude Vanderbilt received $25,000 worth of bouquets at her coming-out party.

—The princess of Wales has tired of big sleeves and has discarded them without any appreciable effect on the prevailing fashion, however.

—Everything indicates a lively time at the Ohio democratic State convention which meets at Springfield to-day. Both the money factions claim to have secured an advantage in the county conventions.

—A distiller puts up this pitiful plaint: "There are 85,000,000 gallons of Kentucky whiskey in the warehouses. The chief consumers of whiskey are working men, and as they have been out of work for nearly two years all over the country, the demand has fallen off, and we find ourselves with a greater amount of whiskey on hand than ever before, and absolutely no demand for it at remunerative prices."

NEWSFROM NEW YORK

A Danville Merchant!

Says Goods Will be Cheap this Fall, and Orders a Cut on His Stock.

ST. DENIS HOTEL, Broadway and Eleventh Sts., New York, Aug. 10, '95.

DEAR FRIEND HARRIS:

I am delighted with the Metropolis; it is a wonderful commercial center, and this hotel is a beauty and very spacious; judging from the throng which continually crowd the lobby one would suppose that it could accommodate all the people of Danville.

Say, old boy, it pays a fellow big to come here instead of buying goods at home. Not only do we get much lower prices, but you have the best and the finest to make your selections from.

We are scouring the market and we feel sure that our stock when complete will be the finest, best selected, and lower in price than any that was ever shown in our thriving little city, and if we don't largely increase our business there will be something wrong with the intelligence and frugality that has heretofore characterized Danville buyers.

Every thing here indicates the return of good times, and am governed by our purchases accordingly.

Give my regards to Cap, and all inquiring friends, and sell the balance of our spring goods, even if you suffer some loss, as we must have every inch of room for our fall and winter stock.

Expect to be home about the latter part of next week, and hope this finds you as well as it leaves us. I am

Yours Very Truly,

J. L. FROHMAN.
